Only the Liberal Democrats have the plan to deliver what we need locally and to get our country back on track.

For too long, our area had been taken for granted by the Conservatives time and time again.

After years of local decline under Conservative-controlled councils with little opposition, our area saw the change it needed in 2022 when residents in Rushden elected local Lib Dem Joe Norris to Rushden Town Council.

And at the start of this year, our area sent a message to the Conservatives by taking a chance on Keir Starmer's Labour and electing his candidate to be our local MP.

But after a few months in the job, and with Keir Starmer set to become the next Prime Minister, local residents need to ask themselves:

"Does Keir Starmer have the vision for our local area and the country that we need?"

The Lib Dems are committed to fighting for the Fair Deal that we deserve. From tackling the scandal of water companies dumping sewage into our rivers, to ensuring fair access to healthcare for all, a vote for the Lib Dems is a vote for better.

Liberal Democrats - the only opposition in Rushden

As parliamentary candidate, I've been delighted to work with Cllr Joe Norris - who, as a Liberal Democrat councillor, is the only opposition on Rushden Town Council. With Labour failing time and time again to get elected here, only Joe has been standing up for local residents on issues like street repairs, car chargers, on street parking and many other issues.

Joe has also stood up for the dignity of our LGBTQ+ community in the face of awful comments from local Conservative politicians - and if elected to parliament, I will continue to raise this issue. It is important that all residents get a fair deal. And to get more Liberal Democrats elected alongside Joe to keep standing up for Rushden both on the Town and also the unitary council.

Send me to Westminster, and Joe to North Northants Council - together we will ensure your voice is heard, not ignored.
